

Traductions Serge Bélair inc. acquires Traductions Séguin Adams inc.

Montréal, July 22, 2011 — Traductions Serge Bélair inc. (TRSB) is pleased to announce the acquisition of Traductions Séguin Adams inc. (TSA), as part of a transaction that will take effect officially on August 1, 2011. This acquisition will bring TRSB a proven team of top-notch language service experts specializing in financial translation and editing, especially in the fields of securities, accounting, taxation, economics and statistics.

This transaction, an integral part of TRSB's development strategy, will merge two firms whose operations represent a perfect fit and which both enjoy an enviable reputation. TSA will be logistically integrated into TRSB over the next few weeks. Clients can rest assured that they will continue to receive the same level of quality service.

About TSA

This firm was founded in 1987 by Pierre Séguin and Richard Adams, who recruited a personable and versatile staff offering timely service to a demanding client base. TSA's valuable expertise has, from the beginning, enabled the firm to deliver first-class language services.

TRSB at a glance

TRSB was founded in 1987 by Serge Bélair, a translator who turned a one-man operation into a firm with a staff of nearly a hundred permanent employees and who remains its guiding light. TRSB has grown organically, serving its client base with an ideal balance of quality and efficiency while keeping its practices and technologies in line with the times. TRSB's success is a by-product of its vision and philosophy, which emphasize the use of translation to further communication by constantly focusing on the message and its impact.
